IN MEMORY OF A DEAR FRIEND CHARLES GUSTAVUS ROGERS ''GUS''

As we pass through this life
Filled with all its pain and strife
His memory lingers deep within our hearts
The happy memories that cannot depart
Nor be diminished by the winds of time
Though he spoke his words in quiet rhyme
His strength lay in his kindness
And we with heart felt gratefulness
Are thankful he touched our lives with his love

ALPHA CHI

The Georgia Gamma Chapter of Alpha Chi, led by Dr. Phil Neujhar as the sponsor and Gary Deck as the president, published the Oglethorpe Student Directory and also awarded two one-hundred dollar scholarships to members of the freshmen class. This national honorary society has as its purposes the promotion and the recognition of scholarship for students in the academic divisions of colleges and universities of the United States and other countries. Barbara Ostipwko acted as the vice president while Claire Coles and Graham Wood were the secretary and the treasurer, respectively. This organization's long list of members included: Sandra Allen, Elese Culpepper, Valerie Fakess, Laura Fantini, Janiec Gallashaw, Kathy Goeek, Susan Grady, Barbara Greco, Richard Green, Patricia Griffith, Jane Holmes, Jeffery Horn, Bruce Johnson, Betty Knjawski, Nancy McClosky, Debbie Menshaw, Joseph Oddo, Brenda Parsons, Thelma Randall, Guy Scull, P.J. Sullivan, and Martha Turner.

BLACK CAUCAS

Different lectures and Black History Week, which was from February sixteenth to the twenty-second, were some of the activities sponsored by the Black Caucas, along with parties and dances. The group of Black students, under the direction of Mr. Roger Dottin, promoted the general welfare of Black students and all of Oglethorpe's population.

Aurelia Sands held the presidency, while Barbara Howard was the secretary. Vice president for the past calendar year was filled by Kathy Wells, and the treasurer was Rodney Lucas. Denyl Mance heads the list of members as the publicity chairman for the organization. Pamela Jackson, Tanya James, Shelia Williams, Marilyn Bivins, Walter Tupps, Audrea Winsbush, Debra Walton, Glenda Clark, Lynda McCord, Corliss Armstrong, Cynthia Cone, and Sharon Pierce were some of the interested participants.

Aurelia Sands as the president tried to encourage solidarity, insure academic and social justice, and promote the general welfare of students.

OGLETHORPE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Oglethorpe Student Association, more commonly known as the OSA, was headed by Phil Chamberlain. Its purpose was to provide for the orderly operation of the affairs of the student hody of Oglethorpe University and to promote the common goals and interests of that group. It also strived to promote cooperation among students, faculty, and administration. Government here at Oglethorpe is basically self-government. Sam Christopher budgeted the money for the various student organizations as he acted as treasurer for the OSA. Roberts Rules of Order were followed in every Senate meeting, with the help of the parliamentarian, Ken Hawko. During the month of March, Joey Hitzig volunteered for the position of vice president of the Senate. Normally, there would have been five main officers: president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and parliamentarian. Most of the work of the OSA was shown to the students through the workings of another organization, the Social Committee, led by a board of several students. Movies and dances were planned by this very busy segment of the Oglethorpe Student Association.

DORM COUNSELOR

If a woman in Traer Hall ever needs assistance, to whom does she turn? If she is locked out of her room or needs a light bulb or is having room-mate problems, to whom does she turn? The Resident Assistants for the first semester were Valerie Fakess and Barbara Ostipwko, while Lynn Johnson and Patricia Wool became responsible for the last half of the year. Dorm Counselors for the first semester included Jackie Stein, Lori Schwartz, Sue McGhee, Merri Gill, Beth Morrison, Susan Birnbach, Annette Friant, Sherri Katz, Terri Prieser, Cindy Sedran, and Patricia Wool. Mrs. Fostine Womble and Mr. Terri Scritchlow were the Resident Directors for the Women and Mens' Complexes, respectively. Parties, sports events, and sewing circles were among some of the activities sponsored for the women. One such party was given in honor of the graduating seniors in the dorms—both Traer and Goodman.

On March 4, 1971, a national honorary society in science was formed of Oglethorpe University's campus. Sigma Zeta promoted the study of science on the campus. Bucky Colwell acted as the President, while Dr. Goslin was the Sponsor. The Alpha Nu Chapter hosted several speakers, such as Dr. Raphael and Dr. Zinsmeister.

The Yamacraw staff wants to apologize to the many organizations we have not mentioned. For various reasons, all of which we are truly sorry, we were not able to recognize them. As many will remember, many organizations had their pictures taken two. three, and even four different times.

CHEERLEADERS

The 1974-1975 cheerleaders for the basketball team were: Kim Bonner, Jamie Friedman, Susan Grady, Colby Johnston, Janis Rosenberg, and Cheryl Smelly.

BASKETBALL SHOTS

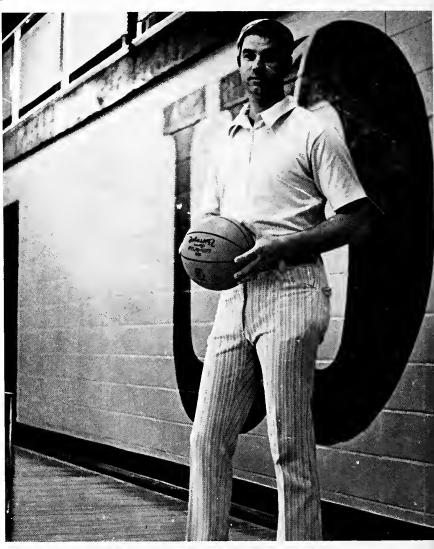

BASKETBALL PLAYERS

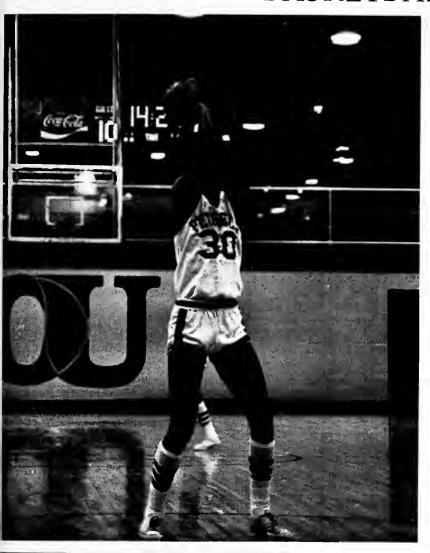

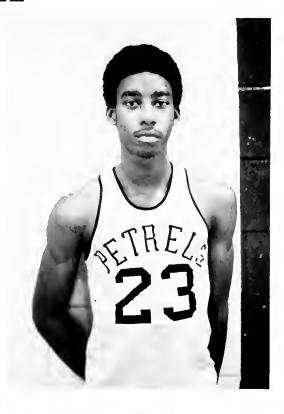

Larry Hanson returned to start with the Stormy Petrels this year. His jumping ability and quickness definitely helped the tcam. Good vertical reach and physical size were two major qualities that George Hood, a freshman, had this year. A Pre-Med major, Darr McKeown, aided the Petrcls with his outstanding jumpshot, strength, and speed. A man to have definitely watched this year was Ricky McCord. He was a returning starter at a wing position, and probably one of the best athletes Oglethorpe has ever had.

BASKETBALL

Coach Bill Stewart led the Petrels for his second year here at Oglethorpe. Even though this was his second year as Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach, Mr. Stewart played for the Petrels from 1961 until 1964. Ray Morgan (not pictured here) served as Sports Information Director, which entailed home game promotion, sports statistics, and Sports Publication Director for the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and as the Baseball Program recruiter during the summer. Mike Blackman, number 54, and Steve Frey, a freshman played for the Petrels this year, Randy Harris, 647, was a good jumper and a good shooter for the team.

MORE BASKETBALL PLAYERS

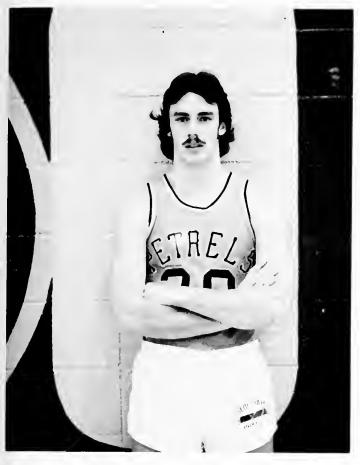

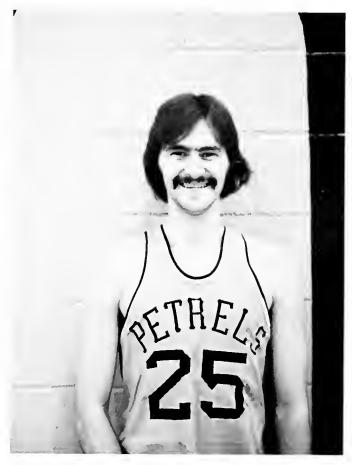

Al Grushkin of Memphis, Tennessee, was one of two seniors of the basketball team. Al was given the nickname of "Pete" because of his ball handling ability and outside shooting. Mike Ayers was the manager of the team for this past year. Because of his sincere devotion to the team, Mike earned the title of "Super-Manager." Chris Reid, a Sophomore of 150 pounds, was quick and therefore, made a good one-on-one player.

AND MORE . . .

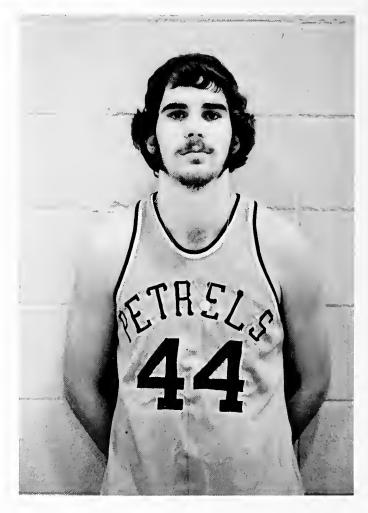

Allen Rogers played at Doraville's Sequoyah High and there was rated one of the top players in the state. His good outside shooting range and jumping ability made him a key member of the Petrel Squad. A good ball handler with a good shooting range, Garry Sams was another asset to the team. He was number 42 on the team and weighed 165 pounds.

MORE . . .

Tommy Sams, Garry Sams' brother, had a deadly outside shooting range. Another freshman and an asset to the team was Tommy Watkins. He played in both forward and center positions. Tony Definitely helped the Petrels with his shooting range and his rebounding ability.

OTHER FAMILIAR FACES

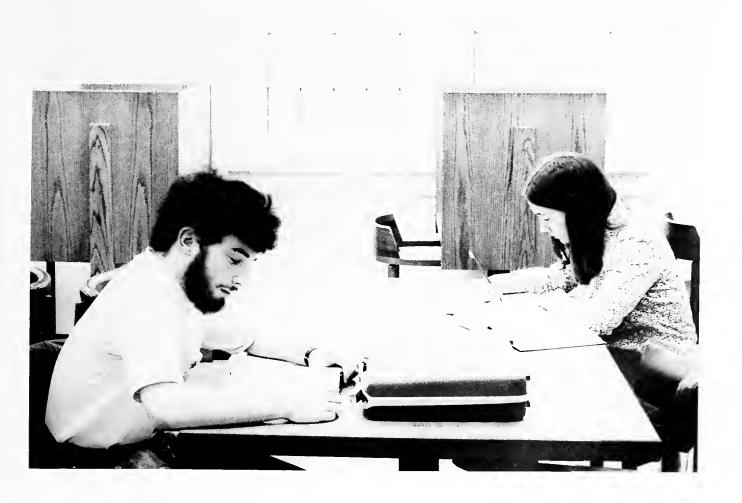

Oglethorpe University has entered an exciting and challenging era in its history. The graduating class of 1975 over the past four years has seen the transition of Oglethorpe University into a cooperative enterprise wherein the student body and the faculty are involved in the administration of the institution. Though a great deal has been accomplished at Oglethorpe since 1967 in regard to its educational program, its student body, the physical plant and the endowment, these accomplishments will pale into insignificance in comparison with what will be accomplished in the next eight years with the enthusiastic support of the faculty and students. During the past, Oglethorpe has demonstrated that a small, private liberal arts college can be a viable, exciting and successful enterprise. Oglethorpe's physical plant is in better condition than ever before in its history. Its endowment is much larger than at any time in its history.

America needs colleges like Oglethorpe; Georgia and Atlanta need Oglethorpe; the faculty and students need Oglethorpe. America needs students who are alert and well educated. Part of their education is their participation, along with the faculty, in the educational enterprise. The foundation for greatness has been provided. Looking into the future, it is as Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr. said, "Life is action and passion. I think it is required of a man that he should share the action and passion of his time at peril of being judged not to have lived."

It all seems sad right now to add the finishing touches on the Yamaeraw 1974-1975. I want to apologize for all the problems that the book carried, but I definitely want to thank the people who helped make it possible.

My sincere thanks to Lynn Johnson, my assistant editor, and to Bill Wolfe and Ross Henderson for putting up with me and my questions." Charlie Anderson deserves a special pat on the back for the cover — thank you! Beth Morrison, Joey Hitzig, Liz Graydon, Dean MacKenzie, and Tom Douglas are very much appreciated for their devotion and their aid. Thank-you very much for everyone's help.
